

Other Faiths

At St John Fisher, we recognise that every person is made in the image and likeness of God, and we value the rich diversity of beliefs and traditions in our world. As a Catholic school, our teaching of other faiths grows from the Church's call to promote understanding, respect, and dialogue between people of all religions and none.

Our aim is to help pupils appreciate the beliefs, values, and practices of others, while deepening their own understanding of the Catholic faith. By learning about Judaism, Islam, Hinduism and other world religions, pupils come to see the shared search for meaning, truth, and goodness that unites all people.

Through this learning, we aim to foster respect and tolerance, recognising God's presence in every person. We encourage pupils to reflect on similarities and differences between faiths with curiosity and compassion. We aim to build an understanding of how faith shapes identity, community, and daily life around the world. We hope to strengthen pupils' own Catholic identity by seeing how dialogue and understanding are part of living the Gospel message of love and peace.

By studying other faiths, our pupils grow as respectful, open-minded, and faith-filled individuals who can contribute to a peaceful and just society, rooted in the Gospel value of love for all.
